A safer workplace

THE BEST SOLUTION IS A CONSOLIDATED APPROACH

One of the best ways to protect your business is to screen out alcohol or drug abusers before they become part of your team. Giving applicants a drug test and with an ongoing random screening program, it protects your business.

That is why CONSOLIDATED offers:

- Pre-employment screening
- Suspected employee intoxication, and
- Random screening strategies

We commit to be available At ANY TIME, ANY PLACE.

How is it done?

There are a vast number of products on the market and the careful selection of methods and equipment was a must for a consistent approach to drug and alcohol solutions.

We aligned ourselves with a major SA laboratory, and its scientists, who helped us choose the right product for Australia. We choose to offer both saliva and urine testing options for your unique program. This provides great flexibility.

Any positive tests may be forwarded to our laboratory for confirmation.

Consolidated can attend your site and deliver an education program prior to screening. We then structure a screening regime in line with your requirement after explaining ALL available options. We tailor the program specifically to meet your needs.

Consolidated use the same alcohol testing equipment as most Police forces in Australia AND adopt accredited procedures. The machine is regularly calibrated to produce an accurate three decimal point reading.

Our saliva and urine kits test six drug types and the urine differentiates between prescription and non prescription drugs. This saves embarrassing and unnecessary staff trauma.

We deliver full customer service and support at all times. We are available for telephone advice at no cost.

Our education program is informative and effective.

We can help make your workplace safe for your staff by a diligent drug and alcohol awareness and screening program.

Please contact us at any time for further information.
